

Disclosure of Interests

Bali Journal of Anaesthesiology requires disclosure of any available interests by all authors so that the editors and readers of the journal may determine whether any conflict of interest exists. A conflict of interest does not prevent any authors from contributing to this journal. However, it is essential for us that this is clearly and openly stated in the manuscript. This form must be completed with details for all authors.

Authors’ Names : Aldy Heriwardito, Muhammad Ruswan Dachlan, Jefferson Hidayat, Hadli Rokyama

Manuscript Title : The Effect of Contralateral Head Rotation on Internal Jugular Vein to Carotid Artery Distance and Overlap Ratio

If no competing interest exists, then please type “No interest declared” in the provided box. Should any potential competing interest does exist, then enter details, including the value of any financial involvement and any aspect that may represent a conflict of interest in your contribution to the journal.

1. Commercial organisations: within the past 5 years, have *you or a member of your household had any involvement with commercial organisations whose business or financial interests may be affected by the publication of your manuscript? This includes the receipt of funding from commercial companies, the conduct of contracted research, and industry-supplied funding for lectures, travel and department support.
