5. CONCLUSION

Legal investment institutions are those who have business licenses and are legal entities. If you want to invest in an investment institution, make sure that the company already has a business license and is a legal entity. So, you will be safer investing. One of the investment institutions that is already a legal entity and has a license from the Financial Services Authority (OJK) is Qazwa. Be careful, because your money is valuable and don't waste your money investing in the wrong place. Don't let the hope of getting a profit from your investment turn you into a stalemate.
