It is undeniable, the company must also start changing the factors that exist within the company. This is done so that the company can adapt well to increasingly advanced times and of course to maintain the company's survival. There are many factors that have changed, starting from how the company's strategy benefits, the operating system that the company runs, especially the company's responsibility. Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) is the designation of company responsibility, especially with the environment within the company and outside the company (the surrounding community). PT. Toba Pulp Lestari Tbk is present as one of the companies in Indonesia that carries out CSR activities. The company owned by a businessman from Indonesia, Sukanto Tanoto, is located in Toba Regency, precisely in Pangombusuan Village. PT. Toba Pulp Lestari Tbk was established in 1983. PT. Toba Pulp Lestari Tbk is present as one of the companies in Indonesia that carries out CSR activities. The company owned by a businessman from Indonesia, Sukanto Tanoto, is located in Toba Regency, precisely in Pangombusuan Village. PT. Toba Pulp Lestari Tbk was founded in 1983. However, the company was closed because they caused environmental pollution that disturbed the community, such as smoke from factories, waste disposal, and the pungent smell of waste. Over time, in 1993, a new awareness emerged at PT Inti Indorayon Utama, running again with a new model of cooperation with the community, environmentally friendly technology and environmentally friendly sustainable natural resource management. But according to the BetaHita.id article (2020), there is still news that there is company still has a bad impact on the community for the running of the company's operational activities and has not been able to provide accountability for the company's operational activities.

METHODS

The form of research used in this research is qualitative research with a descriptive approach. The informants in this study were divided into 3; key informant (CD/CSR Manager of PT. Toba Pulp Lestari Tbk), main informant (Parmaksian District community involved in PT. Toba Pulp Lestari Toba Tbk's CSR program) and additional informant (Parmaksian District Head). The data sources in this study consist of two, namely; primary data and secondary data. While the data collection techniques in this study were divided into 3, namely interviews, observation and documentation. Data analysis techniques in this study are also divided into 3, namely; data reduction, data presentation, conclusion drawing and verification.

According to Hendyat (Febiyan et al., 2020) states that effectiveness is the accuracy of the target of a process that takes place to achieve predetermined goals. Meanwhile, what is meant by organizational effectiveness is the target accuracy of a process that occurs in formal institutions that carry out a collaboration with mutually coordinated components to achieve goals.

According to Sutrisno (Maburoh, 2019: 52), in measuring effectiveness the following aspects can be used, including; program understanding, timely, goal achievement, real change, program monitoring.

According to the European Union (Rochmaniah et al., 2020: 3), the definition of CSR is a concept by which companies integrate social and environmental concerns into their business operations and in their interactions with customers stakeholders interest (stakeholders) based on the principle of volunteerism. CSR is considered as a concept that makes companies have to voluntarily give their attention to the environment and social surroundings.

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) in a global context, initially based mainly on the presence of the concept of The Triple Bottom Line in 21st Century Business 1998 (Rochmaniah et al., 2020:27-29) in which John Elkington packed CSR in a 3P focus, namely; profit (profit), people (society) and planet (environment).

Types of corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) (Suharto, in Amini, 2018:19-20); Education CSR, Health CSR, Economic CSR and environmental CSR.

Companies in Indonesia have four models (Saidi in Rochmaniah et al., 2020:47 – 49) in CSR, namely direct involvement, through foundations or corporate social organizations, partnering with other parties and supporting or joining a consortium.

There are four strategies for managing corporate social responsibility (Sudarsana, in Rochmaniah, 2020:56), among others; reactive strategy, defensive strategy, accommodative strategy and proactive strategy.

According to Notowidagdo (Ngutra, 2017: 36), the meaning of welfare is safe, secure and prosperous, safe and the welfare of the community means to the community with good conditions, happiness and prosperity. All these conditions, of course, apart from all the disturbances, difficulties and so on.
According to the Central Statistics Agency (2018) in public welfare there are several indicators that can be used to measure community welfare, namely; poverty rate, employment, improvement of regional infrastructure, education, health, housing and environment.

According to Ndraha (Leuhery, 2018: 122), the quality of human resources, namely human resources capable of creating not only comparative value, but also competitive, generative, and innovative values by using the highest energy such as intelligence, creativity, and imagination, is no longer just -eyes use raw energy such as raw materials, land, water, muscle energy, and so on.

According to Danim (Sastia 2021:12), indicators of the quality of human resources are; physical quality and health, quality intellectual (knowledge and skills), and mental quality

RESULTS AND DISCUSSION

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

PT. TOBA PULP SUSTAINABLE TBK

The company's pillar in carrying out CSR activities is not only because the company wants to which benefits as the results of an interview with Ms. Romida as the CD Manager of PT. Toba Pulp Lestari, the company implements CSR programs, especially in Parmaksian District because the company feels that the company lives side by side with the community, not just looking at the profit side (profit), but also contribute to human development around the operational community (people) and contribute to the environment as well (planet).

The types of CSR provided by the company are divided into 5, namely education, economy, environment, health and social investment. The company's model for providing CSR is with the company being invited by the sub-district and village governments to a meeting such as a village meeting. There the company was invited and the company heard what the community's requests or expectations were for what was happening. After that the company records and reviews the truth of the previous expectations. Then if the company feels that these aspirations need to be implemented and are really needed, the company will grant the request and immediately provide assistance to the community.

The CSR management strategy that is implemented, namely with CSR companies really looking at how the applicable law is. The company also listens to the community's expectations and requests for what is needed and the company feels that CSR is one of the ways the company can satisfy its stakeholders. If the stakeholders are satisfied, then the company can run the company's operational activities properly.
