INTRODUCTION

English is the foreign language in Indonesian which is considered very important to absurd science and technology art and culture and develops interaction among nations. Generally, the efforts have reached a success in learning English that can be seen through the ability of reading, writing, listening, and speaking. The people may master in speaking and writing, but without understanding the idiom they will clumsy, because one of idiom's function is know about the language. Language is a tool communication in order to deliver many kinds of information, expression, and feelings to each other. The language can be expressed in the written forms. In a literary way, humans can express their feelings in forms of writing a literary works such as poetries, novels, and even song lyrics. It means that language is a tool to convey the ideas, thought, opinion and feeling. Human being can live because of language, without language human being cannot interact with others. Moreover, language exists where human being gather and they need to perform function of their social life especially in music.

Many people like the song, but they often misunderstand about the meaning lyric itself. A lyric song is not like the words we that we use directly. Sometimes, it is delivered with figurative language like a poem. A poem lyric must consist of figures of speech and idioms, but song lyrics must not. In showing single song lyric get one or more idioms.

Looking the idiom is very important to add the knowledge in all of English skill deeply. Without knowing the idiom the listener will not know the meaning that is delivered by speaker. Therefore, this research hopes can easy understand in many expressions especially in song lyrics. Idiom can be found in many song lyrics, one of them is found in Avril Lavigne's song lyrics.

Many idioms have a very narrow register range, being used only in a certain context and for certain effects. They therefore need to be approached with a great deal of caution Thornbury (2004:27). Idiom is one of the English variations.

Rachmadie (1986:15) states that "idiom is an expression which cannot be understood from literal meanings of the words of which it is composed". People use idioms in expressing their idea because there are no alternatives with the same meaning, so the use of the items concerned is unavoidable if the meanings concerned can be expressed at all. There are many theories related to the word "idiom" which are stated in the books and internet. Idiom is combination of words that seems perfectly natural to the native speakers or a language but seems old or unfamiliar to other people. According to Cyssco (2000:i), idiom is an expression, consist of words, but the meaning cannot be defined from the words that perform it. It means idiom must be seen from all aspect or context.

There are three kinds of idiom; phrasal verb, preposition verb and partial idiom. Phrasal verb is a very common type of idiom in English. What is usually called the phrasal verb is the combination of the combination of the verbs and adverbs (Palmer, 1976:99). The meaning of these combinations cannot be predicted from the individual verbs and adverbs.

Based on Palmer (1976:99), prepositional verb is the sequence of verb and preposition or verb, adverb and preposition. It can be seen in the examples given such as look after, go for, put up with and do away with. The Expressions waiting for belongs to prepositional verb since it is a sequence of verbs plus preposition.

Another type of idioms exists in what is called partial idiom. It is where one of the words has its usual meaning and the other has a meaning that is peculiar to particular sequence (Palmer, 1976:99).

Manser (2005: 395) said that "Song is poem set to music, intended to be sung". While Grenough in Ulfa (2006) explain that "song means the act of art singing: practical composition or study musical composition of words and music is a collection of such composition, a distinctive or characteristic sound or series of sound (as a bird or insect)". Therefore, Woods in Longman Dictionary of Contemporary English (2004: 969) states that lyric is the words of a song. From the explanations above, we can conclude that song lyric is a short of verse set to music and intended to be sung which contains a set to be sung which contains a set of word or phrase or sentence which carries the creator's felling, thought and mix it with musical composition that can produce a beautiful song. An album or record album is a collection of related audio or music tracks distributed to the public. The most common way is through commercial distribution, although smaller artists will often directly to the public by selling their albums at live concerts or on their website. The term "record album" originated from the fact that 78-RPM phonograph disc records were kept in a bound container resembling a photograph album. In starting the first debut in 2002, 13 songs on her first album is Complicated, Sk8er Boi, I'm With You, Losing Grip, Unwanted, nobody's fool, mobile, thing I'll never say, naked, My world, too much to ask, tomorrow and anything but ordinary achieve high ratings in several charts and made the album Let Go get the multi-platinum in the first two months of release. Its first single, Complicated, from his first album titled Let Go (2001-2003) successfully achieved 6x platinum.

The researcher limited the problem in this research that is the researcher wants to find out the idiom used in Avril Lavigne's lyrics album Let Go 2002. The researcher will focus on describing the idiom found in Avril Lavigne's song lyrics. In short, the researcher is interested in writing this paper entitled "Idiomatic Expression Found in Avril Lavigne's Song Lyrics Album Let Go 2002".

METHODOLOGY

This research uses descriptive-qualitative study. The qualitative research referred to the meaning, concepts, definitions, characteristics, metaphors, symbols and description of things (Berg 1989 in Mariani 2003:45). Arikunto (2010:10) argues that research is a scientific activity in order to develop and enrich the knowledge. Research is an effort for understanding and solving the problem scientifically, systematically, and logically (Ali, 1985:5), so it needs research design. It is a plan of collecting and analyzing data economically and harmonically related to the objective of research (Nasution, 2006).

Furthermore, Nazir (1989: 99) explains that research design is all of the process that the researcher needs in planning and realizing of the research. From all definitions above, conclude that research in an investigation which needs the process in planning, collecting and analyzing the data, so the problem could be solved scientifically, systematically, and logically. The writer used descriptive research design because it gives description of idiom in the Avril Lavigne's song lyrics album let go and then finds the meaning of each of them. Ali (1985:124) states that: Descriptive research is applied to solve the current problem by stating the problem, collecting and analyzing the data to answer the problem and arrange conclusion of the research.

In collecting the data the researcher uses some steps. The method of collecting data is some ways which can be used in some research to collect the data (Arikunto, 2006:143). The data of this research are idioms found in song lyrics at the album Let Go (2002) by Avril Lavigne and there are methods of collecting data which is done by the researcher.
