

Growth after academic failure in Javanese students: An indigenous approach

Fakhirah Inayaturobbani¹; Ammik Kisriyani²

Center for Indigenous and Cultural Psychology, Universitas Gadjah Mada, Jl. Sosio Humaniora No. 1, Bulaksumur, Karangmalang, Depok, Sleman, Yogyakarta 55281, Indonesia¹

Faculty of Psychology, Universitas Gadjah Mada, Jl. Sosio Humaniora No. 1, Bulaksumur, Depok, Sleman, Yogyakarta 55281, Indonesia²

fakhirah.inayaturobbani@mail.ugm.ac.id¹; ammik_psi@ugm.ac.id²

Retracted

Following a rigorous and careful concern and consideration in the review of the article published in Psychological Research and Intervention entitled 'Growth after academic failure in Javanese students: An indigenous approach' Volume 1 Issue 2, pp. 78-90, 2018, DOI: <http://dx.doi.org/10.21831/pri.v1i2.22162>, this paper has been found to violate the principles of Psychological Research and Intervention publication and has been retracted.

The article has contained redundant material and throughout a careful examination, the editor has found that the paper has also been published in Indigenous and Cultural Psychology Working Paper Series Volume 13, Issue 2, Article No. 1, December 2017, which can be accessed at <https://simpan.ugm.ac.id/s/9DV1LJplblqNjzo#pdfviewer>

The document and its content have been removed from Psychological Research and Intervention journal and reasonable effort should be made to remove all references to this article.

Permalink/DOI: <http://dx.doi.org/10.21831/pri.v1i2.22162>